With regard to the Oriental Zodiac, we are about to pass from the Year of the “U (Rabbit)” to the Year of the “Tatsu (Dragon).” The character “to shake” is the root of the word “Tatsu,” which denotes the condition in which everything in nature vibrates and plants flourish and are bursting with life. The only made-up animal in the zodiac, “Tatsu” also means dragon. It was said that the dragon was selected as the sign of the zodiac because it was a well-known representation of wealth and power in the East. May 2024 brings with it the promise of a prosperous, peaceful, and joyful new year filled with everything you and yours could possibly want.

With the invaluable assistance of the entire Editorial Board, the “Laser Therapy” journal resumed operations following the COVID-19 pandemic break.

Five issues with the new Editors and Publishers have been published thanks to the substantial contribution of numerous authors who have submitted numerous papers.

We extend our best wishes for a prosperous and successful 2024 to all of our readers and ask that you continue to contribute to the journal by submitting your work and accepting requests for manuscript reviews from the editor.

Editor-in-Chief

The goal of Laser Therapy Journal is to serve as a bridge between clinical practice and research in the field of laser technology. In science, the three essential steps are to learn, do, and inform. We have to choose the right information and share it with the world right away. The journal will therefore be fully visible and open to all.

We are grateful to the authors and reviewers who made it possible for our joint project to be completed.
